

This is AAUW

Since its first meeting in Boston in 1881, AAUW has been a catalyst for change. Our nonpartisan, nonprofit organization has more than 150,000 members and supporters across the United States, as well as 1,000 local branches and 800 college and university partners.

AAUW was founded in order to develop quality programs and services for women and girls throughout the United States.

The Association promotes women as leaders and fosters friendships through branch programs, special interest groups and community action. The Santa Rosa branch began in 1935.

A couple of Funds that AAUW Funds provides include the Educational Opportunities Fund, which is a separate corporation that awards and administers fellowships, grants and research projects, and the AAUW Legal Advocacy Fund which supports women seeking legal redress for sexual discrimination in both academia and the workplace.
